

Celebrating Compliance Week, November 6-10, 2023 at the University of New Mexico and UNM Health and Health Sciences.

Each year, the Compliance Department updates three compliance-related learning modules to ensure every member of UNM Health and Health Sciences receives the most current information.

As we look forward to celebrating Compliance Week on November 6-10, we wanted to take this opportunity to remind all staff, faculty, and learners to complete each of the following compliance-related learning modules, if you have not already done so:

- Fraud, Waste, and Abuse 2023
- UNMH Code of Conduct and HSC Codes of Professionalism and Conduct 2023
- UNMH/HSC Compliance Training 2023

To add an extra boost to 100% completion, we are launching a Completion Challenge! This activity is open to all staff, faculty, and learners from the four UNM Health and Health Sciences entities —UNM Hospital, UNM Medical Group, UNM Sandoval Regional Medical Center and UNM Health Sciences— who have not, to date, had an opportunity to complete them.

The first 50 individuals from each entity to complete all three compliance-related modules between October 22 and November 7, 2023 will be eligible to receive a data blocker kit and other compliance week “swag” (while supplies last). Click here to read all eligibility rules on the submission form.

Congratulations and thank you to all who have already completed the compliance-related learning modules. For those who have not yet completed them, now is the time to do so – avoid the end-of-year rush and be part of the Completion Challenge!

The UNM Health and Health Sciences Compliance Team is excited to celebrate Corporate Compliance and Ethics with you!
